History

One of the oldest settlements in our nation, Starr County is a place where the sunset reminds you that you are one with nature and where the sunrise awakens your evolving spirit. This border community, rich with the history of two cultures, is stirred by the passion of its roots and has laid a solid foundation in the beautiful hill country of the Rio Grande Valley.

Once here, you will be exposed to a wealth of natural beauty and an abundance of historical sites. Popular destinations like La Borde House, a national historic landmark built in the late 1800s, allow you to encounter visions of majestic splendor that transport you back in time.

Here, your opportunities for satisfying your outdoor whims are limited only by your imagination. At our nationally acclaimed Falcon Lake and throughout our bountiful ranch land, you can enjoy distinctive bird and butterfly outings, relish in thriving fishing and gaming, experience exhilarating water sports or simply revel in our breathtaking scenery, while sampling our local cuisine. Whatever your reason for choosing us, let your next vacation be filled with gratifying exuberance. Come learn what many have already discovered ... the future leads to Starr County and its waiting for you.
